A DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

George Hood Killed and J. L. Cantrell Severely Injured.

A fatal accident occurred six miles east of this city last evening, at Locust Hill, George Hood, living near Albion, being the victim. Mr. J. L. Cantrell left this town about three o'clock with a new threshing outfit, consisting of an engine and separator, in crossing a valley at the point indicated the separator became detached and ran down onto the engine, crushing the driver, Geo. Hood, between the two, killing him almost instantly, and severely injuring Mr. Cantrell. It was thought he might die, but the physicians have not yet returned with a report. Mr. Hood is a man of family.

A barbecue and picnic will be held at the Coffeyville crossing of Big Cabin on the 4th, to which all are invited. Beef and pork in abundance is promised. Rev. D. N. Allen, W. H. Kornegay and others will make speeches.

In the case of Lee vs. James Melvin, administrator of the Lem Ketchum estate, a judgment for possession of the place and $500 damages for rejection was given the plaintiff. An appeal will be taken to the appellate court at St. Louis.

Freeman & Wyle, merchants at Mayville, were burned out clean last Saturday night. The incendiaries were seen running from the burning building about eleven o'clock at night but could not be identified or apprehended. This is the second time within a little over a year that this firm has burned out.

The city authorities have put their foot down upon the selling of intoxicants, and every good citizen we hope we have no others within our borders should stand by and endorse the position taken. Our officers are as sensible to approval or reproach as individuals and their actions will be largely influenced by yours. See, then, that your influence is cast upon the right side.

Mrs. Belle Stevens' Sunday school class and a number of other townsmen spent last Thursday out on Pawpaw, on N. Skinner's ranch, flitting and picnicking. John Frank and John Milwhee killed and barbecued a calf, and in every way sought to make the day a pleasant one for their visitors, and succeeded admirably. Mrs. Stevens is soon going to New Mexico for her health, intending to be gone a year.

At The Convention.

Col. L. E. Bell returned from Chicago Saturday evening full of convention lore and prepared to give the politicians of Delaware district a few new points next year. While the Jackson boys, from the McCallister convention had the best of it at first, Col. Bell and his colleagues finally got recognition and the vote of the Indian Territory was divided, as a compromise, Prof. McCarthy, as intimated, went to Chicago, and it was he who presented the case of the Muskogee convention. The professor has not yet returned, but is taking his summer's outing.

A Cattle Case.

A. O. Hall, W. E. Habbitt and Charley McCallahan go to Kansas City on the 8th of July to attend a law suit over a head of cattle. It appears that last fall these cattle and a number belonging to a man named Owens, holding in the Oswego nation, were taken up as strays in southern Kansas, and fed all winter. When spring came Owens found the bunch and took his away, leaving the balance to stand for the feed bill for all. They were sold under the stray law and were being shipped to Kansas City when McCallahan discovered them in a car, telegraphed and had the proceeds held, and this suit is to obtain the same. These gentlemen do not care to pay Mr. Owens' feed bill, but are willing and expect to pay their proportionate share of the whole.

GOVERNMENT COURT.

Judge Lundrum held court at Claremore most of last week and made a very good show towards clearing the civil docket. All criminal cases, including those against the cattlemen for employing non-citizens to run their cattle, were continued by the nation at the suggestion of the chief for this reason. At the April term of the district court Ben Hall was convicted of killing logs and sentenced to jail. He applied to Judge Parker for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that the Cherokee jury law was in conflict with the constitution of the United States, in that it provided for a jury of six instead of twelve. It is understood that the decision will be in Hall's favor, and hence it was thought advisable to continue all cases in which the same question might be raised.

The decision in the wire fence case of Messrs. Wilder, Keys and Hayden is given in full elsewhere in this paper.

The following was the disposition of the civil cases heard:

Jess Rowe vs. Jno. Lynch, suit for an improvement; judgment for defendant. Appealed.

D. E. McDaniel vs. Sue M. Adair, suit for an improvement valued at $1,000; judgment for defendant. Appealed.

A. H. Norwood vs. W. C. Patton; withdrawn by plaintiff.

J. S. Moore vs. Ed. Taylor; dismissed on motion in favor of defendant. Appealed on ruling.

Josh Albert vs. J. M. Tittle; compromised.

Bessie Reeves vs. Charles Reeves, suit for divorce; judgment confessed.

Pat Henry vs. Hugh Henry, suit for debt of $5,250; judgment confessed.

H. B. Henry vs. Pat Henry, suit for debt of $5,450; withdrawn by plaintiff.

G. H. Harlow and wife vs. Mary A. Barker; dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Appealed.

John Whitmore vs. W. E. Habbitt and J. M. Crutchfield; withdrawn at plaintiff's cost.

Jno. R. Carter vs. Kincaid, administrator estate of N. J. Tanner; judgment by default for $342.83 and interest.

J. M. Tittle vs. H. C. Sheldahl, suit for possession of improvement judgment by default.

J. H. Akin vs. J. W. Elliott, suit for improvement; withdrawn by plaintiff.

Wm. McGay vs. W. S. Edwards, improvement; withdrawn by plaintiff.

Barth McPherson vs. Jack McPherson, suit for divorce; defendant confessed judgment.

Resolved, That we thank Mrs. Denny for her faithful work in organizing same.

Resolved, That we thank all who so kindly assisted in the temperance concert of last Friday night.

MUSKOGEE NOTES.

Court will adjourn on the 7th of July for the term.

We were favored with rain Monday and it is now cooler.

The 4th will be celebrated at Nevasa ferry, on the Arkansas river south of Ft. Gibson.

Several prisoners were brought up from Ardmore last week to plead guilty to light charges.

Miss Simmons, the education teacher at Harrell, closed a special class of one month's course, Monday, with class exercises and music.

A. Berryhill, serving time for introducing, is suffering with the scurvy. The jail physician prescribes a course of treatment in jail, and recommends his release on his own account and to prevent the disease spreading among other prisoners.

The city has within its limits five beer saloons, and a wholesale depot. There is continually on hand in stock from one to two cans of beer. Saturday it was reported on the streets that the light horse were selling beer at Chetopa and that five men had been killed. The light horse is probably untrue, but the chief and judge of the district, of the tribal court, have directed the destruction of the beer, and the work is expected to commence at any time.

There is many a thing I have dared not try. There is many a thing I have failed in, too. And many a time I have asked myself why. Was simply, "I didn't know how."

For in all the past I have found it true, And daily find it so now.

But the hardest task for one to do, Is the one which he "doesn't know how."

So all through life I have earnestly prayed, As, "I said, 'by the sweat of my brow,'"

But hope and ambition alike are dead— Killed by that "I didn't know how."

And when at last I am dead, and laid Under the marble white as snow,

Here lies D. Dodd, who "didn't know how,"

Now we think I hear some one say, As I make my parting bow,

He may have failed in many things, But as a Washingtonian he did know how."

Go to the Alliance store for fine watch repairing.
